

Dear Maternity Patients and Families,

We are excited to announce that Crocus and Sage Maternity will be combining groups as of November 1, 2021. Each day there will be one maternity doctor on call for all deliveries and pregnancy emergencies with a second maternity doctor providing back up as needed. This is the first step towards forming a sustainable group that will provide high quality maternity care for all Yukon women.

Our wish is to support each other as some of us take the time to have our own babies. With this plan we hope to rely less on doctors coming from out of territory for short-term contracts. We will also be transitioning to providing prenatal care out of one shared clinic space at Whitehorse Medical Services (406 Lambert St), starting in December.

There will be a group of 8-10 doctors sharing the call schedule so you may not have the chance to meet the doctor who will be there for the birth of your baby beforehand. To help out with this there will be the option of attending 'Meet the Doctors' events, which will happen every 3 months or so. These events will also provide some group education and the chance to meet some other moms and families with similar due dates.

Sincerely,

Your Maternity Care Team
